FIFTY-NINTH CONGRESS.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—SENATE—A number of annual reports of public officials were laid before the Senate at the beginning of the day's session and the order was followed by the presentation of a report of the Senate, of which a large number were introduced.

Among the resolutions presented was one by Mr. Newlands directing the Interstate Commerce Committee to frame an act for the incorporation of interstate railroads.

Mr. Spooner expressed his surprise that no bill had been introduced to frame a bill for the insurance of interstate railroads.

Mr. Newlands said that such a course was unrepresented.

Mr. Newlands said that his only desire was to have the knowledge and skill of the members of the commission, but he wanted to secure such a bill and expressed indifference as to its authorship. He gave notice that he would speak on the resolution next Monday.

The Senate adopted without debate a resolution, introduced by Mr. Newlands, on the Judiciary to inquire into and report to the Senate whether, under the Constitution, Congress has authority to insure marine fire-and-life insurance. The Senate, at 1:30, went into executive session.

Upon the opening of the doors, a man, identified as a member of the House of Representatives from Texas, H. C. Cook, late a member of the House of Representatives from Texas, was seen in the lobby of the Senate chamber, and spectators, was manifested in the press galleries of the House in the preceedings of the Senate yesterday. Discussion previous to the adjournment of the Senate until next week would be limited to the Panhandle Canal Bill, to be taken up today.

A resolution of the committee on Rules, held just before noon, to postpone the preparation of a rule which will force consideration of the Canal Appropriation Bill should unanimous consent be given.

The bill was then considered by the House as in committee of the whole, and Mr. Vreeland of New York, in the chair.

Mr. Hepburn began the discussion of the measure. After a brief controversy with Mr. Payne of New York, who asserted that the bill should have been referred to the Ways and Means Committee, Mr. Hepburn reviewed the canal work, stating that $10,000,000 had been spent and that additional attention had been paid to having employees on the Isthmus and in rehabilitating the machinery and French companies left there.

There were 100 rolls on the isthmus containing the names of more than 12,000 persons. They were paid twice a month, and there would be no funds available for the payment of December 16 unless the bill should pass.

Replying to a question by Mr. Lethbridge of Maine as to the amount expended for salaries, Mr. Hepburn said that the total amount was approximately $2,000; six between $400 and $400; fifty-five between $200 and $200; and 128 between $50 and $50. These included engineers and persons of higher skill.

It was stated in reply to C. B. Landis that the value of the Panama Railroad was $10,000,000. But Mr. Hepburn could not recall the estimated value placed on the machinery and equipment before it was passed by the United States.

Mr. Fitzsimons of New York said that he had been informed that $10,000 a year was being paid to "a press agent" in the office of Mr. Hepburn, and he knew nothing of any such expense.

"How can Congress find out if that is so?" persisted Mr. Fitzgerald. The reply was that Mr. Fitzsimons had to get the information by making in the proper place for it.

"But does the gentleman think this is a mere paper appropriation?" asked Mr. Fitzgerald.

"I do not think it would equal in usefulness an Irishman who could wield a sword," retorted Mr. Hepburn.

"But that I hardly a good defense of any appropriation under any department of this government," retorted Mr. Fitzgerald.

Mr. Hepburn said he had not heard of the matter before. He did not believe in a proper appropriation of the canal, and he would support Mr. Fitzgerald's purpose in investigation.

Mr. Williams suggested that an estimate be secured from the commission on the cost of the canal, and the cost of the purchase of the two steamers, Mesnia and Hawana, was asked for by Mr. Moore.

Mr. Hepburn replied that he understood the three steamers originally purchased as a part of the property of the French company were now capable of transporting the required amount to the Isthmus.

Fault was found by Mr. Olmsted, of Pennsylvania, in the original contract, with the statement of expenses furnished. Mr. Hepburn concurred in this opinion.

The bill was referred to Mr. Williams of Mississippi, who gave notice of certain amendments he should offer to the bill later. He declared the canal a success, and the benefit to the South would be great. No individual could claim credit for the canal. The principal amendment he should offer to the bill was on the sum of $14,000,000 in the bill, and the amount he should endeavor to ascertain in the amount actually necessary to carry on the work until January 1 next.

Asserting that there was at least $40,000,000 belonging to the United States now on deposit without interest in the canal, he said that if he would object to the issuance of bonds on which 2 per cent interest should be paid to secure money to build the canal, and still insist on the entire bonding provision, he would move to strike out the provision reimbursing the treasury for the amount appropriated from the bill from the proceeds from the bond issue. He gave attention to the original act authorizing bonds for the canal, and said it was plain there was nothing mandatory about it.

MUST DO AS MANUFACTURER.Fruit Growers Should Attend to Their Market.*False Ideas on Subject Result in Much Loss.*Principal Topic Discussed at Santa Rosa Session.*IS THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.
SANTA ROSA, Dec. 6.—The second day's session of the State fruit growers convention convened this morning at 10 o'clock at the Hotel California in this city. The greater portion of the session was devoted to consideration of the market problem.Marketing California Products, and Exposition Work, from a California Standpoint, was the subject of an important address by J. A. Wheeler, one of the commissioners in charge of the Portland and St. Louis exhibits."Marketing Outside of Transportation Lines" was the subject assigned as A. N. Judd. He spoke in part as follows:"In marketing, farm and orchard products, the difference in the methods of presenting them to the consumer from those followed by the manufacturer is most marked. A mighty army of agents and salesmen travel to the ends of the earth, dictating the prices of fruits and vegetables, and it is easier to take or reject as he pleases."This work is done at the enormous sum of more than $200,000."For the fruit grower with his products of the almost inconceivable yearly value of five billion dollars, have never yet dreamed of such a task. He will wait patiently for an offer that they are bound either to take or make no sale."The farmer or fruit grower appears to think that his business is not of sufficient importance to justify his making his own efforts. This is the case with the whole United States; in fact, with the Palaro Valley, while the city man is influenced by the eye wholly and in consequence, seldom eats a good apple. But as the city buyer represents our market, we should try to influence him to buy by taste, for apples and all other fruit must be consumed in greater quantities in order to sell in good condition.""Who but the grocer should show the buyer the difference between those kinds of the royal family of fruits, yellow bellower, the Newtown pippin, the peach, the Leevor and Ben Davis?""To show how serious this question is: At the Louisville Purchasing Convention held there recently, a 10 per cent. discount, and only 10 per cent credit was given to taste, while 21 per cent was given to looks. In fact, in all articles over 25 cents, the buyers demanded at least 10 per cent of the honor, and the taste less than 10 per cent. This call for action on the part of the grower is well illustrated by the gravity of attending to at least a part of our own business.""The Hood River grower of Oregon has shown us the way to market; he follows the lead and can go him better or shall we accept half price for our products."*"England as a Market for Our Fruits" was discussed by Edward Burwick, and "Packing Fruits in Tin Cans, in Their Natural Shape," was a proposition discussed by J. D. Luther.*Both papers brought out considerable discussion and occasioned much interest. He showed that prunes and raisins like any other fruit although little has to be done excepting in that line. Finding a market for the California prune crop is one of the most difficult problems facing the fruit grower in this State, and therefore the entire output has been shipped dried. If a market can be developed for canned prunes it will have an important effect upon the prune industry.*RECORD-BREAKING YEAR.*At the afternoon session, Lieut.-Gov. Alden Anderson was the first speaker. His subject was deciduous fruit shipments and conditions. He said this had been a record-breaking year in the matter of fruit shipments from this State to the East.*J. D. Stevens followed with extended remarks on transportation and the market. He said shippers were well satisfied with the methods of handling the output followed this year and hoped they would continue.*Luther Burkhardt, with a scientific paper on the walnut in North and Central Calif., Mr. Burkhardt said almost every variety of nut found a congenial home in this portion of the State, but that the royal walnut, also known as the English, etc., was slow to take the ground.*He said the two best varieties he knew were the two best varieties. He strongly favored the Santa Rosa variety, its early development, great productive power, etc., being the few points in its favor. Its greatest fault, he said, is its tendency to start early in the spring. The greatest fault of the Pruneiro is late ripening. The latter, he said, is not wanted while the air is still clear and ground still dry, and the buds do not have to be removed by hand, as is often the case with the Pruneiro.*Prof. M. Durbin, Prof. Prof. E. W. Wickson of the State University, who told of Burbank and his work, and the session closed with a discussion of the papers read during the day.*Two sessions of the commissioners were rendered a reception in Ridgway Hall by citizens and the Woman's Improvement Club.*PRIZE COOKING RECIPES.*1000 in Times Cook Book No. 2, Now Ready.*All the prize cooking and other recipes brought out by the recent contest conducted by the Times, are now collected in one book form. THURSDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1905.

REACTIONARIES ARE ASSAILING WITTE.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

S. PETERSBURG, Dec. 5.—(Tuesday night, via Hastings, Finland, Dec. 6, 7 p.m.)—The so-called landlords' conference of representatives of a number of reactionary organizations, like the Russian Peasant and the Holy Alliance of Reactionaries, met in Moscow, which was convened by Count Witte. The Emperor addressed the troops, commanding on their trial loyalty. At the subsequent regal banquet given by the Emperor, the members of the regiment for its exemplary services and expressed the hope that it would always show itself as firmly as ever.

The telegraphists tried to meet this afternoon at the hall of the Technical Society to discuss their means to keep up their strike, but they were compelled to disperse by a police captain who told them on account of the regulations.

The League of League has called on the workers and all friends of freedom to donate a day's wages to the cause of the telegraphists, and has warned the railroad telegraph operators that they must cease to transmit any political service messages.

Father Gapon is continuing to preach in the workmen's agitators' revolution, saying that their acts are sure to result in reaction and Jeopardy, the freedom purchased by blood.

His words revolutionaryists are sure that they cannot be heard by the peasants by their political demands, but are more likely to rouse up the country, thereby could the country be saved from anarchy and ruin.

The reactionary influences on the country which the members of the delegation said they found to be strongly entrenched in St. Petersburg and Tsarskoe-Selo were pushing their own interests, with an utter disregard of the consequences.

It is further pointed out in the communication that the only salvation for the government would be the assumption of a definite standard outlining a liberal policy, to be followed at once by corresponding acts.

It is expected that Count Witte will answer this communication tomorrow (Wednesday).

LINES OPEN TO POPULACE.

ST. PETERSBURG, undated [via Warsaw, East Prussia]—Dec. 5.—An official note was issued to-day explaining that while the government is fully determined to carry out the demands of October 26, it is impossible at the present time to make the necessary arrangements for the payment of the administration of the new order of things created by the manifesto.

Until the new legislation required by the manifesto is enacted, the old laws will be retained, except where they are already replaced by temporary provisions. The new acts concerning the financial regulations governing the freedom of the press and the right of association have been completed.

The members of the Council of the Empire and the extension of the franchises are awaiting a conclusion, and that the new acts in the national and local areas will be ratified. At the same time, strikes are being initiated to cope with the disturbances, which are endangering public security.

Relief chief of the press censor office has been relieved of his post, at his own request.

At the review of the Monovoye Regiments, held yesterday, the Emperor addressed the troops, commanding on their trial loyalty. At the subsequent regal banquet given by the Emperor, the members of the regiment for its exemplary services and expressed the hope that it would always show itself as firmly as ever.

Advices from Voronezh, dated December 3, say that the soldiers of a disciplinary battalion are parading the streets and inns, troubling the populace. One continent, it is added, is touring the surrounding villages and estates, and levying blackmail.

SPK FOR THE MASSES.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 5 (via East Prussia)—An official note was issued to-day addressing a communication to Count Witte, in which they pointed out that they were the leaders for the masses of the country, when they demanded universal suffrage.

They said that it was a fact that universal suffrage would be the best way to their aims, and that thereby could the country be saved from anarchy and ruin.

The reactionary influences on the country which the members of the delegation said they found to be strongly entrenched in St. Petersburg and Tsarskoe-Selo were pushing their own interests, with an utter disregard of the consequences.

It is further pointed out in the communication that the only salvation for the government would be the assumption of a definite standard outlining a liberal policy, to be followed at once by corresponding acts.

It is expected that Count Witte will answer this communication tomorrow (Wednesday).

LONG BEACH PEOPLE HAVE AN ADVENTURE AT SEA.

While on the Way to San Diego, the Propeller Shaft is Broken and Sail Made of Awning Affords Poor Headway—One of Crew Puts Out for Assistance.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.—SAN DIEGO, Calif., Dec. 4 (Exclusive Dispatch). Twenty-four hours at sea in a propellerless launch, the J. C. Elliott, with scarcely enough provisions to keep them from want, was the experience of twenty Long Beach excursionists who arrived here this evening in the launch McKinley, which went to the rescue of the stricken boat.

The Elliott left Long Beach yesterday morning for San Diego and early in the forenoon when about forty miles off Oceanside, sixty miles north of this city, her propeller shaft was broken. Having no sail, Capt. Napier of the Elliott had to make his purpose, the boat being headed for Oceanside, but an adverse wind set in when the boat was twelve miles at sea. A hard pull at the oars and a job of pushing Oceanside. After a hard pull he landed at Oceanside, where he telephoned to San Diego for help.

Capt. Terrell left for the north at midnight, and when he pulled in this morning that he came up with the powerless steamer, which was fifteen miles off Oceanside. Cheer upon cheer was given by the passengers, and when the McKinley came alongside and made her tow line fast. Provisions were running low and great alarm was felt by the Elliott's passengers, which included many children.

During the night the awning sail carried the Elliott to within a few miles of La Jolla, to which place another sail was made for home. After that the Elliott was in the grip of a current which took her back to the point where she had been at sunset the previous day.

For the next two days the sea was smooth and other than the fright of being blown to sea in a powerless and sailless boat, the passengers did not suffer. The passengers were sent home by Capt. Nelson of the Nelson-Napier Navigation Company, owners of the Elliott, was a passenger. The Elliott runs between Long Beach and San Pedro.

HOLD-UP JABS WOMAN.

Highwayman's Knife Pierces Clothing of Victim When She Was Robbed and Stripped.

Mrs. Margaret Moreno had a desperate encounter with a holdup man at Fifth and Hill streets a few minutes after 6 o'clock last evening. The woman was robbed of a gold necklace, and narrowly escaped being seriously wounded in the right shoulder, the point of a knife used by her assailant piercing her jacket.

She was taken to the police at once and detectives were detailed on the case. Despite the suddenness of the attack and the consequent excitement, Mrs. Moreno was unable to furnish a good description of the man.

The woman was walking toward her home when the unknown man suddenly jumped in front of her and commanded her to stop. She refused, whereupon she turned and tried to comply with this request her assailant had reached for the handsome gold necklace which adorned her neck. Mrs. Moreno refused to give up the necklace, took it from the thief, and then ran away, leaving the jewelry from her person, and was met with a fierce knife lunge, the point just missing the fleshy part of her arm.

The necklace was rapidly broken, and the thief escaped in the darkness.

SALMON WINS APPEAL.

Supreme Court Makes Decision With Reference to Prosecution for Cohabitation.

In passing upon an appeal in a local case involving interest in Los Angeles at the time, the Supreme Court of California has decided that persons may not be prosecuted for "open and notorious cohabitation and adultery" since the matter of the illicit relationship is the subject of common conversation.

The moral delinquency is the same in all instances," the court says, "but the statutes do not provide punishment for those cases where the offense is widely known."

The question arose on an appeal by E. C. Salmon from a conviction in Superior Court at Los Angeles. Both the defendant and his paramour were married to other parties in New Jersey. They took up residence in Los Angeles and lived together as husband and wife. Through their fault, however, the general public of their wrongdoing, they escape imprisonment.

SEEK CROOK'S RECORD.

Harry Newman, alias Melvin Hickox, said to be an expert hotel thief, has served several sentences in state penitentiaries and was arrested yesterday by Detectives Hayes and McKenzie, and is held in the City Jail while his record is being investigated.

He is accused of being responsible for the theft of $10,000 worth of jewels and Auditorium Hotels in Chicago of several thousand dollars' worth of valuables and served time in Joliet on his offense.

The police think he has been mixed up in several affairs in this city.

VISITORS WILL LEAD.

A dinner will be the highlight of what the W.C.T.U. has done for members, will be led by Miss Emma Black of Cincinnati, a delegate to the national convention in this city.

CHARITY GRAFT ON IN HOLIDAY RUSH.

AKING advantage of the holiday good feeling, a hundred beggars of varying degrees of respectability are besieging the downtown stores and office buildings.

They are mostly women with church pins attached to fakirs of the "General Union-Mission-Army" stripe. The Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association blacklisted one such yesterday—the "Sunshine Mission."

This was run by a man who calls himself "Rev. George A. Willits, formerly one of Gen. Moore's satellites. He evidently made his money in the "General Union-Mission-Army" stripe.

Although the merchants' charity has been protected in this wise, those who live in the big office buildings are still being harassed by the fakirs.

They have no way of finding and separating the worthy from the unworthy.

At this season business is so brisk and the sales high, and the feeling of cordiality is so general, that donations to unworthy purposes often are made by professional men who would rather donate than bother to investigate.

He asked for the endorsement of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association when he found he could get few nations without it, and was refused.

When turned down by the association, multuous and offensive conduct by loud and unusual noise."Dr. V. H. Squires of No. 305 South Spring street was the complaining witness, who stated that he had been rudely broken by the woman, who caused a disturbance in his office at 4 o'clock in the morning. Dr. Squires said the woman came to his place at the unseen hour mentioned and asked for some medicine for rheumatism.

He told her she was a dentist and advised her to seek a physician, but she refused and drank a portion of the contents of a bottle which contained whisky and then proceeded to start a rough house.After the woman had been arrested Squires commented that he did not care to prosecute the case and the charge was dropped after she had paid the costs.QUICK DASH SAVES WOMAN.Unknown Snatches from Harm Passenger Who Fell from Car Almost Underneath Its Wheels.An unknown man saved Mrs. G.
Willis Price of No. 1544 Kellogg avenue from serious injury and possible death at First and Broadway during the rainy hours last evening, as the woman was about to roll beneath the wheels of a north-bound street car from which she was sleeping beneath the wheels.After performing the heroic feat the crowd which had quickly gathered, without receiving the thanks and praise due him.
Mrs. Price alighted from a Temple-street car, but suddenly remembered that she had failed to get a transfer.
She started to mount the steps of the vehicle when the power was turned on, and she was thrown almost beneath the wheels.One of the crowd standing nearby dashed an athletic individual at this moment, who snatched the woman as she was falling to the pavement. She was dragged to the streetside, and her resuer disappeared.VISITORS WILL LEAD.At the meeting of the Los Angeles

A coat of imitation marten, cut after the chamber, so far as he is personally concerned, is willing to hold a conference with the transportation companies in a spirit of participation to see if anything can be done without recourse to a trial by jury.

Mr. Koepfli said he would stand firmly by the position that the inner harbor must be absolutely open and free; that a few hundred feet of frontage on the outer harbor never do;

that the transportation companies must yield something substantial enough to absolutely guarantee freedom from monopoly and an open harbor. He said he was fully disposed to ask anything unfair or unjust or unreasonable.

He regarded it as the duty of the chamber to insure that the rights of the people be fully protected. The government should adopt the plan for the reason that it involved the taking of nearly all their lands. As a result of protests a new board was appointed to conduct the inner harbor. At first it became apparent to our company that it most desirable, of course, to avoid litigation if possible, in the completion of the inner harbor. It was agreed that a committee should be appointed by which a conference could be held between the transportation companies and the chamber.

The suggestion of The Times that long litigation and the danger of an abandonment or a ten years' postponement of inner harbor work be avoided by a resort to arbitration is heartily commended by some of those most deeply concerned, as well as by some business men who have studied the situation.

President Koepfli of the Chamber of Commerce has late written to Mr. Gray that he would not assume to speak for the chamber, so far as he is personally concerned, in a conference with the transportation companies.

He suggested this plan, but there was no "conspiracy" and every step taken in connection with said plan has been open and above board.

The transportation companies will be appointed in which their representatives will be selected by President Roosevelt.

"The chief ground for the present chamber's conservatism seems to be based upon the fact that the Salt Lake Company united with the Southern Pacific Company and the Banning Company

in a plan to increase the water frontage of San Pedro a harbor that will make it possible for us to become first among the great seaport cities on the Pacific Coast.

It is difficult to have the harbor project derailed by grapevine corporations or by priate interests.

We must have a harbor at San Pedro as big as the hearts of our Western people.

But Gray, a twenty-year-old negro boy,
was accidentally shot and killed by his fifteen-year-old brother, Henry

Gray at their tent home in Mitchell alley, near Seventh street and Santa

Fé avenue, at 9:30 o'clock last night.

Horrified to discover that he had ended the life of his brother, the boy ran screaming to his mother, Detrave, Rico, Palermo, McKenzie and

Roy Allen arrived on the scene shortly afterward and young Gray was taken to the Central Police Station.

According to witnesses, a crowd of white boys assembled in the neighborhood early in the evening and had gathered around the two boys, George and then threatening to shoot them if they did not go home at once. Henry

Gray, becoming scared lest the boys put their threats into execution ran home and securing a shotgun, fired through the door of his house. The boy died immediately after the shot was taken.

And the time is soon coming when the port will need every available drop of water frontage in its immediate vicinity for it. It is the desire of the shipping interests to increase this available water frontage to the greatest possible extent, and not to exceed one inch.

"Again again that the Southern Pacific would be glad at any time to have the matter put before the legislature or concerned might be definitely and clearly understood."

CONCESSIONS WILL WIN.
PUBLIC INTEREST MUST RULE.

W. G. Patterson, of the Chamber of Commerce, said the chamber believed that if suggested, the chamber and corporations will get together in a spirit of reasonableness, the dispute can be ended satisfactorily in all concerns.

"The Southern," said Mr. Story, "offered a time ago to come to the matter, and when they have been made to feel that their offer was not in the right spirit, if now, and the Southern Pacific has the Lake and the Southern, I am sure the Chamber of Commerce, representing the public interest of the city, will be ready to meet them half-way. Certainly no good could be accomplished by such a getting together, and probably the whole question will be permanently settled and the building of a great inner harbor be my own experience has taught me that the railroads are liberal, open-minded and disposed to treat the public fairly and even generously, and again, as a member of the Chamber of Commerce, I have gone to them with our public subscriptions, and those who have given as much as I asked and some more, and I have been in the city and at the same time made to feel that our demands must be thoroughly considered.

"If the corporations are willing to make these concessions out of their own pocket, I believe they will do so, and the Chamber of Commerce's position is the right thing."

WHOLE COUNTY INTERESTED.
WHAT SUPERVISOR SAYS.

C. E. Patterson, County Supervisor, whose vote will have much to do with the outcome, is of the opinion that the railroads are right in their demand for a new harbor, and that the county should be represented in this matter.

"It is my hope that the railroads will be left to the control of the county in this case."

The territory involved in this project is sought to be annexed to Long Beach, the election to be held on December 12.

At that time, I understand that already many real claims to part of this project.

It is my opinion that persons should be allowed to speak in this meeting, and that the railroads should be represented in this meeting.

It is unfortunate that this meeting will be years away, and the Chamber of Commerce should begin its agitation. Part of the railroads' rights have been saved to the city.

In the opinion of the District Attorney, it is safe to say that the time is sure to be brought into court.

In this mixed-up situation I do not see as though the railroads could be brought into court, unless their interests were to take over this territory. It is as much to the railroads as to the city, and it seems to make very little difference in the harbor right whether it is or is not taken.

The matter cannot thus be settled in thinking that persons should be allowed to speak in this meeting, and that the railroads should be represented in this meeting.

It is my opinion that the railroads are to blame for the whole harbor frontage free to the city, and that the railroads' interests would be harder on the railroads than on any other.

WATKINS WILL PLEAD GUILTY.
GET-RICH-QUICKSTER TO MAKE HIS ANSWER TODAY.

Declares He's Victim of Notorious Savrett, and no Longer Will Seek to Evade Postal Law for Lottery Concerns—Turn of Fitzsimmons Coming.

"Ollie" Watkins started United States Attorney Valentine yesterday by coming in to announce that he wished to plead guilty to using the mail in furtherance of a lottery scheme.

In all probability his plea will be entered this morning, and the finish of his case will come swiftly. Mr. Valentine gives Watkins credit for his desire in this matter, and says he makes no pretense of shifting his responsibility upon the other claimants.

Watkins' show International Credit Company was a graft known almost as widely as plios Mrs. Fitzsimmons' smooth method, promises to make some startling exposures in his plea.

He may be another victim of the "notorious" Savrett, his bride-in-law. Gen. Tyner, whose rebuke by President Roosevelt for alleged selling of judicial opinions brought absolute headlines, has been silent since his dispatches have stated that he was a most ungrateful son-in-law, as he purloined judicial decisions and other matter and sold them to others to gain in his business, bordering on the shady side.

Watkins avers that he applied to Barrett, told him the nature of his business, and had Barrett send him one of the famous letters which, it is generally surmised, that his line, though out of the ordinary, was fully within the pale of the postal laws.

Watkins states that he did his letter-writing and literature distributing, fully confident that he was on the right side of things, and that the government had no claim on him for wrongdoing.

This will be the second time he has been before the Federal court, as he was tried in October when the jury found him guilty and could not be brought together in a verdict.

He was indicted on four counts, and intent will be given to the first two, as he is to be what sort of sentence the court will mete out to him.

PIZZES COMING.

Orders for pizzas will soon again go into the public eye, as the bill of exceptions, which his attorneys are preparing in their work for a new trial must be ready and in on Monday. There have been repeated delays.

Two Thousand Horse Power to be Generated by Steam and Carried to San Francisco District—Kern and Panamint Mines to Reopen—Gold-Sold Freight Rates.

Plans are reported under consideration for an electric plant of 2000 horse power at Needles to furnish light and power to a number of concerns in that town, and also mines in the San Francisco district. An electrical engineer named Montevideo, formerly of San Francisco, but more recently of Hermosillo, Mex., who he is connected with big business interests, is engaged upon the project. He has been in Needles and the mining districts looking into the situation, with much ownership.

The plant is to be operated by steam, as there is no water power to be had. Oil will be shipped from Bakersfield or Los Angeles and it is said that the Santa Fe has agreed to deliver it at $1 a barrel. Five hundred horse power will be utilized at Needles, 600 at the Gold Roads mine, 200 by the German-American and 200 by the Vivian. The remaining 600 will find ready sale.

Power can easily be transmitted, and if such a plant is to be put up, Needles would seem to be the most central point, besides being the outlet for a number of small mining districts and a place that will furnish local support to the company. Power could also be transmitted later to other near-by districts.

Dan Murphy of this city and his associates, who own large interests at Needles, are said to be backing the enterprise. Mr. Murphy is now out of the city.

OLD-TIME KERN MINE.

The Francis Mining and Milling Company is preparing to start up extensive development on its property, the Francis mine, in Kern county, about 15 miles west of Needles. This property was worked by Senators Jones and Stewart during the sixties and there is a shaft down nearly 700 feet. The mine has been closed, but that has been lowered to 55 feet below the surface and the company is centering its efforts upon getting the last out of it and will take some time. As far down as the present owners have gone the old timbers have been found in good condition—a surprising fact after nearly forty years. The product is gold.

The mine was acquired by the present company from the Kern Gold Mine Company, a Michigan corporation, which made a failure. A attempt to operate after installing a $7000 cyanide plant, which proved too costly, the company then sold the property with the remainder of the property. The failure to unwater the mine, however, made it difficult to get the water out, and the miners had much to do with the failure. Besides the cyanide plant, the Francis company has two two-stamp mills that were taken in and a 100-ton mill that was taken out of the dumps while waiting a favorable opportunity to start up more active development. There are also several houses put up by the former miners.

J. C. Meadows of Kansas City is president of the Francis company and among the other officers are T. C. Todd, S. G. Todd, W. H. Sallard, M. D. Proper and J. M. Graybill, all of Los Angeles.

PANAMINT MINES STARTING.

The Cecil E. Mining Company is resuming operations on the claims of the mine near Ballarat, Inyo county, in the Panamint Range. The property was acquired three years ago, and has been leased for the past year. It is a tunnel proposition, the length being about 1000 feet, their total length coming to about a mile. There is one rich pay streak, one from which is said to run from $200 to $700 per ton, the other being a series of low-grade ore. Among those interested in the company are J. M. Graybill, U. S. G. Todd, W. T. Carter and Charles Paulstich. The last named is a smelterman.

TO BUILD SMELTER.

The Arizona Independent Vacuum Smelting Company announces that it has let a contract to the Baker Iron Works of this city for the first of three iron smelters of the type invented by Frederick McGahan. This is to be put up on the properties of the Corralita and the Rescue copper companies in the Ajo mining district of Pima county, Ariz.

GOLDFIELD ORE RATES.

Urge by the claimants of the mine operating, the Goldfield-Mojave Railroad, to make a reduction in rates of about 5 per cent., taking effect on December 5. The new schedule, however, appears to be far from satisfactory to the Goldfield operators, who maintain that the rates are still much too high and that their camp is being discriminated against, thus the difference between the rate from Goldfield and from Tonopah is too great.

Within the last few months the conditions have greatly changed at Goldfield. Prior to that time most of the properties were worked by lessees, who were obliged to furnish their own teams to market regardless of the route, and the railroad proceeded to squeeze the last cent out of them. Now nearly all the mines are in the hands of owners, who are combined to hold their own, any way, if necessary, shut down to the old methods.

Yesterday's action of the Highway Commission was influenced by the appeal of Mrs. A. S. C. Forbes, chairman of the State Committee of El Camino Real Association, and of the Los Angeles County Committee, the object of which is to locate properly the proposed road for connecting the old missions. As the present Santa Barbara-Los Angeles highway is the route, it was urged that it be given an appropriate appellation.

Mrs. Forbes called attention to the possibility of the bill, that is, the provision of Congress in the Brownlow bill, providing an appropriation of $50,000,000 for the building of good roads, to be divided up among the states according to expenditures for a similar purpose. The California Legislature at its last session voted a sum for the purpose, but the bill failed of the Governor's approval.

BOYS HELD FOR ROBBERY.

Charles Casillo and Tony Beltran, two tough rascals, were arrested at the City Jail, charged with highway robbery and, though the boys have confessed their crime and the police have a full confession, they were not immediately taken from a woman on South Main Street Tuesday afternoon. They are unable to locate the victim. According to the police, the girl, who was walking along Main between First and Second streets, when the boys pounced against her, and, grabbing her hand, ran away. They were arrested by detectives yesterday morning and the stolen property was found in their possession.

GRIMES LAKE SUIT FAILS.

Judge Hawley in the United States Circuit Court at Carson City, has dismissed the suit brought by James G. Ford against the owners of the Jumbo mine at Goldfield, claiming an interest based upon an alleged grant made by the state to him. This case, the Jumbo has been closed. It is expected that work may be resumed shortly.

CAMINO REAL IN REALITY.

Highway Commission Votes to Designate Santa Barbara Road Cut Through Cahunga Pass.

El Camino Real (the King's highway) is to become an immediate reality for a part of its length and so far as the adoption of the name can make it so.

The Highway Commission of Los Angeles voted yesterday to change the official title of Santa Barbara road, as adopted, to El Camino Real. This road passes from Los Angeles through Cahunga Pass to the Ventura county line.

It is proposed to place signsboards along the route to the supporting posts being surmounted by the iron belt of the old mission type, but tongueless.

Yesterday's action of the Highway Commission was influenced by the appeal of Mrs. A. S. C. Forbes, chairman of the State Committee of El Camino Real Association, and of the Los Angeles County Committee, the object of which is to locate properly the proposed road for connecting the old missions.

Driver of the Big Borax Mule Team Becomes a Strong Worker in the Mission. After a Checkered Career, Was Twelve Years in the United States Navy.

Andy Kenworthy will celebrate the anniversary of his becoming a member of the Union Rescue Mission family, on North Main street, on December 18.

He was for twelve years in the United States Navy, for two years a music "skinner," and later a bum on the streets of Los Angeles, now a sober and industrious man, a valued employee of the Edison Electric Company, a member of the First English Lutheran Church, and a nightly rustler at the North Main street "waving station," striving to induce men to forsake their evil habits and become decent men.

After Kenworthy left the navy he found himself a hopeless drunkard, and drifted westward. In some way, he scarcely knows how, he became driver of the now famous 10-mile borax team in the desert, though at that time it was a 100-miles' round trip. He says he will be sold without his improved security. Free lunch at the Harvey House.
